

Anti-Facilitation of Tax Evasion Policy

Introduction

This Policy applies to all companies, individuals or other entities who perform services for or on behalf of ATPI Group.

It is our policy to conduct all of our business in an honest and ethical manner. We take a zero-tolerance approach to facilitation of tax evasion, whether under UK law or under the law of a foreign country.

We are committed to acting professionally, fairly and with integrity in all of our business dealings and relationships wherever we operate. We have implemented and will enforce effective systems to counter tax evasion facilitation.

We will uphold all laws relevant to countering tax evasion in all jurisdictions in which we operate, including the Criminal Finances Act 2017.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'J. van Hest', written over a horizontal line.

Signed

Mr Jeroen van Hest

Chief of Staff

December 2023

Anti-Facilitation of Tax Evasion Policy

About this Policy

The purpose of this policy is to:

- a) Set out our responsibilities, and those working for us, in observation and upholding our position on preventing the criminal facilitation of tax evasion; and
- b) Provide information and guidance to those working for us on how to recognise and avoid tax evasion.

If we fail to prevent our employees, workers, agents or service providers facilitating tax evasion, we can face criminal sanctions including an unlimited fine, as well as exclusion from tendering for public contracts and damage to our reputation. We, therefore, take our legal responsibilities seriously.

In this policy, third party means any individual or organisation you come into contact with during the course of your work for us, and includes actual and potential clients, customers, suppliers, distributors, business contacts, agents, advisers and government and public bodies including their advisers, representatives and officials, politicians and political parties. This policy may be amended at any time.

Who must comply with this policy?

This policy applies to all persons working for us or any third party working for or on our behalf in any capacity, including employees at all levels, directors, officers, agency workers, seconded workers, volunteers, interns, contractors, external consultants, third party representatives and business partners, subcontractors, sponsors, or any other person associated with us, wherever located.

Who is responsible for the policy?

The ATPI Holdings (Jersey) Limited board of directors has overall responsibility for ensuring this policy complies with our legal and ethical obligations, and all those under our control comply with it.

The Group Chief Financial Officer has primary and day to day responsibility for implementing this policy, monitoring its use and effectiveness, dealing with any queries about it, and auditing internal control systems and procedures to ensure they are effective in preventing the facilitation of tax evasion.

Management at all levels are responsible for ensuring those reporting to them understand and comply with this policy and are given adequate and regular training on it.

Account Managers at all levels are responsible for ensuring those customers and partners they manage accounts for understand and comply with this policy.

Anti-Facilitation of Tax Evasion Policy

What is tax evasion facilitation?

For the purposes of this policy:

- a) Tax evasion means the offence of cheating the public revenue or fraudulently evading UK tax and is a criminal offence. The offence requires an element of fraud, which means there must be deliberate action, or omission with dishonest intent.
- b) Foreign tax evasion facilitation means evading tax in a foreign country, provided such conduct is an offence in that country and would be a criminal offence if committed in the UK. As with tax evasion, the element of fraud means there must be deliberate action, or omission with dishonest intent; and
- c) Tax evasion facilitation means being knowingly concerned in, or taking steps with a view to, the fraudulent evasion of tax (whether UK tax or tax in a foreign country) by another person, or aiding, abetting, counselling or procuring the commission of that offence. Tax evasion facilitation is a criminal offence, where it is done deliberately and dishonestly.

Under the Criminal Finances Act 2017, a separate criminal offence is automatically committed by a corporate entity or partnership where the tax evasion is facilitated by a person acting in the capacity of an “associated person” to that body. For the offence to be made out, the associated person must deliberately and dishonestly take action to facilitate the tax evasion by the taxpayer. If the associated person accidentally, ignorantly, or negligently facilitates the tax evasion, then the corporate offence will not have been committed. The company does not have to have deliberately or dishonestly facilitated the tax evasion itself; the fact that the associated person has done so creates the liability for the company.

Tax evasion is not the same as tax avoidance or tax planning. Tax evasion involves deliberate and dishonest conduct. Tax avoidance is not legal and involves taking steps, within the law, to minimise tax payable (or maximise tax reliefs)

In this policy, all references to tax include national insurance contributions (and their equivalents in any non-UK jurisdiction).

What You Must Not Do

It is not acceptable for you (or someone on your behalf) to:

- a) Engage in any form of facilitating tax evasion or foreign tax evasion.
- b) Aid, abet, counsel or procure the commission of a tax evasion offence or foreign tax evasion offence by another person.
- c) Fail to promptly report any request or demand from any third party to facilitate the fraudulent evasion of tax (whether UK tax or tax in a foreign country), or any suspected fraudulent evasion of tax (whether UK tax or tax in a foreign country) by another person, in accordance with this policy.

Anti-Facilitation of Tax Evasion Policy

- d) Engage in any other activity that might lead to a breach of this policy; or
- e) Threaten or retaliate against another individual who has refused to commit a tax evasion offence or foreign tax evasion offence or who has raised concerns under this policy.

Your Responsibilities

You must ensure that you read, understand and comply with this policy.

The prevention, detection and reporting of tax evasion and foreign tax evasion is the responsibilities of those working for us or under our control. You are required to avoid any activity that might lead to, or suggest a breach of this policy.

You must notify your Manager as soon as possible if you believe or suspect that a conflict with this policy has occurred or may occur in the future. For example, if an employee or supplier asks to be paid into an offshore bank account, without good reason, or a supplier asks to be paid in cash, indicating that this will mean payment is not subject to VAT.

How to Raise a Concern

You are encouraged to raise concerns about any issue or suspicion of tax evasion or foreign tax evasion at the earliest possible stage to the Chief Financial Officer, Mr Ian Sinderson by email: ian.Sinderson@atpi.com.

If you become aware of any fraudulent evasion of tax (whether UK tax or tax in a foreign country) by another person in the course of your work, or are asked to assist another person in their fraudulent evasion of tax (whether directly or indirectly), or if you believe or suspect that any fraudulent evasion of tax has occurred or may occur, whether in respect to UK tax or tax in a foreign country, you must notify the responsible person / team as identified above as soon as possible.

If you are unsure about whether a particular act constitutes tax evasion or foreign tax evasion, raise it with your manager as soon as possible. You should note that the corporate offence is only committed where you deliberately and dishonestly take action to facilitate the tax evasion or foreign tax evasion. If you do not take any such action, then the offence will not be made out. However, a deliberate failure to report suspected tax evasion or foreign tax evasion, or “turning a blind eye” to suspicious activity could amount to criminal facilitation or tax evasion.

Anti-Facilitation of Tax Evasion Policy

Protection

Individuals who raise concerns or report another's wrongdoing, are sometimes worried about possible repercussions. We aim to encourage openness and will support anyone who raises a genuine concern in good faith under this policy, even if they turn out to be mistaken.

We are committed to ensuring no one suffers any detrimental treatment as a result of:

- a) Refusing to take part in, be concerned in, or facilitate tax evasion or foreign tax evasion by another person.
- b) Refusing to aid, abet, counsel or procure the commission of a tax evasion or foreign tax evasion by another person.
- c) Reporting in good faith their suspicion that an actual or potential tax evasion offence or foreign tax evasion offence has taken place, or may take place in the future.

Detrimental treatment includes dismissal, disciplinary action, threats or other unfavourable treatment connected with raising a concern. If you believe that you have suffered any such treatment, you should inform the Global Compliance Officer immediately. If the matter is not remedied, and you are an employee, you should raise it formally using our Grievance Procedure.

Training & Communication

Training on this policy forms part of the induction process for all individuals who work for us, and regular training will be provided as necessary.

Our zero-tolerance approach to tax evasion and foreign tax evasion must be communicated to all suppliers, contractors and business partners at the outset of our business relationship with them and as appropriate after that.

Breaches of this Policy

Any employee who breaches this policy will face disciplinary action, which could result in dismissal for misconduct or gross misconduct.

We may terminate our relationship with other individuals and organisations working on our behalf if they breach this policy.